

Reflect and Connect: Week 1, 1511

I feel my efforts this week have been good towards my goal of learning SQL and GitHub. I feel I performed well this week, I wish I would have acquired the videos from John Cabibbo sooner, but now that I have them I feel more success is on the way. I definitely feel I have improved upon my knowledge this week. I know much more about JOIN statements in SQL and I feel a little better navigating GitHub. The results you can expect next are much more knowledge in both subjects. Feeling comfortable that I can move on to other projects to help master my skills from SDI.
