

Week in review: Week 1, 1511

What am I doing? This week I was working towards gaining more knowledge in SQL and starting to master GitHub.

What have I accomplished? I redid my Lab 1 assignment with more understanding. I was able to finish the Lynda course SQL Essential Training and have begun watching the course videos provided by John Cabibbo. The course videos have helped tremendously. I have created my Github repo and have begun watching the Lynda tutorials to help with the mastery of Github.

What am I going to do? I have not yet finished my second SQL assignment but after watching the course videos provided I feel I can finish the lab quickly. I have learned more about GitHub but I will need to finish the Lynda videos
